ROCHESTER, New York, January 25, 2008 – T&C Power Conversion, Inc. today announced that it has joined forces with RF VII, Inc. of Williamstown, New Jersey, RF Global Solution, Ltd. of East Kilbride, Scotland and Axiom Resource Technologies, Inc. of Orange, California.

This is a new exciting strategic partnership to deliver industry-leading state of the art RF Generators and RF Matching Networks to the global industrial, laboratory and drop-in replacement markets. With our comprehensive portfolio of product solutions, we will focus on extending customer awareness that addresses the new technologies combined with our expertise to provide industry-leading solutions. Through these invigorating strategic partnerships, we have well positioned our strengths to comprehensively address our consumers' needs, while also better servicing our customers' immediate requirements across entire lifecycles.

RFVII, Inc. is a well established industry leader in Auto-Matching Networks as well as TEK-TEMP™ chillers and heat exchangers. They truly strengthen and expand our product offerings as well as providing over 35 years of industry knowledge, and an established network of satisfied customers in sales, and service.

RF Global Solutions brings to our organization a strong RF background as a sales distribution network and service facility. They were recently nominated for the "Scottish Enterprise" award for business excellence for their work in the RF Industry.

Axiom Resource Technologies, Inc. (AxR), located in the heart of semicon valley, is a premier sales distributor in the semiconductor and nano-technology equipment markets. With a strong professional sales team coupled with years of experience, AxR provides an explosive distribution network, customer support and service.

"As one of the industry's most respected technology providers of our time, these relationships support our long-term strategy of offering innovative leading RF solutions through our worldwide network of professional RF specialists. We look forward to strengthening our strategic partnership with RF Global Solution, Ltd., RF VII, Inc. and Axiom Resource Technologies, Inc. to remain at the forefront of the RF global industry", said Joe Reminder, VP of Sales and Marketing.
